Youngster Grabbed at Trevoze As She Walks Along
Brownsville Road, Two Blocks from Her Home;
Points Revolver at The Child.

TREVOZE, Aug. 28 — A 13-state alarm has been sent out by State Police for the arrest of a man who kidnapped an eight-year-old girl at pistol point and then held her prisoner for an hour before freeing her.

Sgt. Adrian J. McCarr, head of the Langhorne sub-station, ordered complete investigation.

The young girl was kidnapped as she was walking along Brownsville road Saturday at about 8 p. m. She was two blocks from her home when an automobile pulled up alongside her.

The driver pointed a small revolver at the girl and ordered her into the car. No one was in the vicinity at the time.

The girl later told police that the man drove with one hand and kept the pistol pointed at her with the other. He told her not to scream "if you don't want to get hurt." They passed several cars but the girl was too frightened to call out.

The man drove to a wooded section off Bristol road, where the girl was molested.

After keeping her prisoner for an hour, the man drove her back and forced her from the car near her Parents' Trevoze home. Near hysteria from the ordeal, the child was taken to Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia, by her parents.

The young girl told police her assailant was about 30 years old, with dark brown hair, crew-cut, police showed her several pictures of possible suspects, but she could not identify any of them as the man who attacked her.

Sgt. McCarr said he believed the attacker was the same man who forced three girls into his car at Oakford on July 4th. The descriptions of these girls, and that given by the latest victim, were alike in some respects, he said.

The child's name is being withheld because of her age and the nature of the offense.

GLEANEY BY SCRIBES

Capt. Harold R. Johnson, flight commander, Quakertown unit, Civil Air Patrol, is forming an ordnance group. It will be under the direction of Warrant Officer Harold Snyder, and will be for study and practice of gunnery at Quakertown Airport every Thursday evening. Mr. Snyder has announced the course will be open to any persons desiring to learn how to handle small arms.

Men who know how to handle guns will be used to instruct others under the direction of Mr. Snyder. Supervisory instruction will be supplied by the U. S. Air Force through Major H. E. Turner, liaison officer, of the U. S. Air Force, who has been assigned to the Pennsylvania Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, Allentown.

Captain Johnson has warned that persons desiring to take the course must be sure to obey the law concerning the carrying of firearms. Concealed deadly weapons, he said, must not be carried in cars without permits. After the unit is established, he said.

URGES AMERICANS TO DEMAND CONGRESSMEN CONTROL PURSE STRINGS OF GOVERNMENT, BACKING IT UP WITH UNSELFISH ENERGY

"Let us, as citizens, demand of our representatives in Congress that they control the purse strings of Government," I. L. Brishin, president of the National Association of Consumer Finance Companies, urged Rotarians when he addressed them at the Elks' Home Thursday afternoon on the subject, "Where Are We Going?"

"We can all howl loudly about government extravaganzas; and against high taxes; and if we howl long enough and in unison, we'll be heard," Brishin declared. "The point is that we have to mean it and we have to back it up with unselfish energy and activity to promote the things that we must have to accomplish this end. Tell your senator, your Congressman, your state and local representatives, your neighbor; yes, tell the world that you want government to come back home; that government must be your servant and not your master and keep on telling them until they are firmly convinced you mean it."

Brishin, who is a member of the board of directors of Girard Investment Company, assistant secretary and treasurer of that company,

Doylestown Miss Aids In Work With Migrants

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 28 — Mary Lois Detweiler has been spending the summer assisting in a program for the migrants and their families who go to Deansboro and Dugway, N. Y., for the vegetable harvest.

Miss Detweiler is a grade school music teacher in Telford. Under sponsorship of the Home Missions Council of North America, she was working with the migrants conducting the recreational and religious programs, teaching handicrafts, Sunday school classes and Bible school classes to migrant children.

The Home Missions Council, which sponsors programs like Miss Detweiler's in 26 States, has been ministering to migrants for 30 years.

A GREAT PERIL

This is the first of six articles telling the shocking story of "The Enemy at Home" in the United States. While American soldiers and their United Nations comrades in arms are fighting a tough, vicious and visible enemy in Korea another, shadowy, enemy—potentially vastly more dangerous to Americans than the North Korean aggressors—is working tirelessly here at home to destroy America.

Who is this enemy at home? How does he operate? How strong is he, and just what is his plan and timetable of attack? This series gives as many of the answers as are known, including the fact that there is a definite, published "blue print" for conspiracy which sets forth exactly how this enemy at home—perhaps the most dangerous fifth column ever to be organized—is to strike.

Malcolm Johnson, author of these articles, is one of America's best known reporters, winner of a 1948 Pulitzer Prize for his expose of racketeering on the New York waterfront. Now, Johnson has gone to the root of an even more evil cancer in American life to tell the full, complacency-shattering story of "The Enemy at Home."

THE ENEMY AT HOME
Chapter One

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 — (INS) — The United States today faces perhaps the greatest peril in all its history from an enemy at home.

That enemy is a secret underground communist apparatus working ceaselessly for but one objective—to weaken, to divide and eventually to destroy the U. S. Government in furtherance of Soviet Russia's program for world conquest.

The hidden enemy at home consists of thousands of Communists trained for espionage, sabotage and mass violence. Many of them are native Americans whose only allegiance is to the Soviet Union. They are working under orders from the Kremlin, and they are fanatical in their zeal.

These statements are not the result of idle speculation or of hysteria, but are based on official Communist documents, the reports of

Bristolians Are Married In Calvary Church Here

With the Rev. William E. Hakes, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating at a ceremony in Calvary Baptist Church at two o'clock, Saturday, Miss Lillian Paoletti and Mr. Melvin Bobbs took their marriage vows. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Constantino Paoletti, 1618 Trenton avenue, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bobbs, of Lock No. 2. Mr. Joseph Paoletti, of Dorrance and Wood streets, gave his sister in marriage.

Miss Helen Ference, Harrison street, the bridesmaid, wore a dress of pink marquisette over satin, pink faille hat, matching accessories, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of mixed blooms.

The bride was costumed in a street length dress of white lace over taffeta, white faille hat, white accessories, and carried a bouquet of white roses with a lavender orchid at the center.

Mr. Lawrence Bobbs was best man for his brother.

Following a reception at the Paoletti home, Mr. and Mrs. Bobbs left for a short sojourn at Washington, D. C. They will occupy an apartment at 723 Cedar avenue, Croydon.

PLANE FERRIED FROM NEAR PENNDLE IGNITES

Kruger, of Wings Field,
Ambler, Makes Forced Landing in Phila.

2 ON CRAFT UNHURT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28 — When a Twin Cessna airplane, piloted by John Kruger, a commercial pilot for Wings Field, Ambler, caught fire yesterday afternoon over International Airport, Kruger and his passenger escaped injury in a forced landing.

Insulation in the plane became ignited as the two passed over International field in southwest Philadelphia, it is said. Kruger was ferrying the craft from Old Star Airport, near Pennel, Bucks County, to Wings, Inc. It was about one o'clock when the insulation began smoldering. He landed on the runway and taxied the plane onto the grass to clear the way for incoming planes. A fire fighting crew, he said, put out the fire.

The pilot, back at Wings Field, said neither he nor his passenger, whom he identified as George Roe, of Drexel Hill, was in danger, since they were able to land immediately. However, he said it "would have been another matter" had they been flying elsewhere and unable to land on a smooth runway.

The two-engine plane, according to Kruger, belonged to the Old Star Airport and was being taken to Wings to be used in training pilots.

Tokyo — (Tuesday) — American-aided South Korean troops stemmed two Red offensives on the east wing of the front Monday night after enemy columns plunged through Uihung and Kigye and into Pohang's outskirts. Along Korea's south coast, U. S. infantry, artillery, planes and warships teamed up to repel three new Red probing attacks and smash at enemy forces massing for an expected big push toward vital Pusan. In the center of the 120-mile battle perimeter, other air-supported U. S. ground units broke up three further Red efforts to gain bridgeheads across the Nakdong River southwest of pivotal Taegu.

Lower Bucks County's toll in highway accidents during the week-end is one killed, five injured, and three automobiles practically demolished.

The man killed was en route to Virginia for a reunion with relatives when he was involved in an accident at the intersection of U. S. Route 1 and the old Lincoln highway near Trevoze. Four others were hurt in that crash; while on the Newtown-Langhorne road, a Newtown woman was injured.

The dead man: George T. Williams, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The crash that claimed the life of George T. Williams, 32, of 162 Troy ave., Brooklyn, blocked traffic on the Lincoln Highway near Trevoze for a half-hour. Members of Trevoze Heights Rescue Squad worked for 20 minutes to extricate Williams and a companion, Glen Anderson, also of Brooklyn, from the twisted wreckage.

Anderson, identified by State Police of the Langhorne barracks as driver of the car, was taken to Nazareth Hospital with serious head injuries, a fractured right leg, possible chest and internal injuries and severe lacerations of the face.

Three other men, occupants of the other car, also were taken to Nazareth Hospital. They were the driver, Robert Pennock, 27, of Trevoze, injury to right knee; Thomas S. Thomas, 26, of R. D. 3, Langhorne, head face, and internal injuries; and Walter Holzworth, 30, Newtown, head and face injuries, a possible fracture of the right leg.

State police claim that Anderson failed to stop at a "stop" sign where the Old Lincoln Highway enters Route 1, his car colliding with that operated east on U. S. 1 by Pennock. The crash occurred at 4:30 yesterday morning, with Trevoze Rescue Squad being summoned to take the injured to the hospital. The cars were totally damaged.

The impact overturned Anderson's car and spun the other completely around. Wedged tightly in the wreckage, Anderson, who remained conscious, had to wait while rescue workers attempted first, to burn through the battered doors and, when that failed, to right the car in order to free him. Williams was pronounced dead at the hospital.

When the operator of an automobile is said to have become confused at the approach of a large truck on Langhorne-Newtown road (Route 113), one mile north of Langhorne, yesterday at 8:10 a. m., the passenger car was practically wrecked. The operator was Mary F. Carver, 28, of Center avenue, Newtown. She was proceeding south on Route 113 when the truck approached from the opposite direction. The Carver car ran off the right side of the road, then across to the left side and turned over on its side. The Carver woman was taken to Nazareth Hospital, Phila., by Trevoze Rescue Squad.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Politics As Usual

Washington, Aug. 26.

It is said Administration politicians are somewhat agitated at recent reports that Mr. Truman has lost the confidence of the people and that Democratic election prospects have diminished. Because he acted so well at the time of the Korean invasion and because of the general popular desire to support the President in a foreign war, they have anticipated the reverse. Now, they are seeking the reasons.

There are several quite obvious ones but unquestionably outstanding is that in a time of national peril when belief that the President has risen above personal and political considerations is essential to confidence, there is nothing whatever upon which to base that belief—quite the contrary. The old truth is that in the last two months while the people have been deeply distressed by the bad news from Korea there has been irrefutable evidence that so far from rising above the "politics as usual" level the White House is playing partisan politics to the clear detriment of the national interests. This is a rough thing to say about a President in such a period, but the facts cannot be denied and the more fully they are grasped by the people the sooner, perhaps, the situation can be changed.

The most brazen piece of Truman politics was the appointment as Ambassador to Mexico of Mayor J. Dwyer, of New York, thus driving out of the service a distinguished career diplomat. The established facts are these—this deal was engineered by Mr. Eddie Flynn, boss of the Bronx and Democratic national committeeman for New York. Besides gratifying Mr. Dwyer's desire for a soft berth outside the country (for which he is qualified neither by experience nor ability) this would not interfere with his liberal New York City pension, though very difficult to reconcile with the moral responsibilities inherent in his election only last year. The primary purpose of the appointment is to enhance Democratic chances to gain control of the New York State government. A mayoralty election in November to fill the place made vacant by the retirement of Mr. O'Dwyer, undoubtedly does this by insuring a much larger vote in heavily Democratic New York City. Everybody agrees about that.

The supine connivance of Mr. Truman in this unsavory scheme is disappointing to those who hoped to see him measure up to the standards one has a right to expect of the leader of a great nation in a national crisis. But this is not the only instance of "politics as usual" in the White House since the war began. In two other directions, politics distinctly has influenced the Truman course. One of these is in the matter of rigid economy in non-defense expenditures. The urgent necessity of this is not disputed. Mr. Truman himself has talked about it several times. But when it comes to action, he flinches. Senator Byrd, his own friend, Senator Douglas, of Illinois, and Senator O'Connor, of Maryland, all of whom support him on every defense request, have pointed out perfectly practical ways by which billions can be saved on nonessentials and have pleaded with him to join with them—or let them join him.

To this his response has been feeble in the extreme. He has made one halfhearted gesture and even economy in domestic affairs plenty of kind words. But there he has stopped. He has utterly failed to supply the White House leadership, without which no real cut in governmental cost can be made. It is impossible not to ascribe this failure to inability to resist the pending groups with whom he is politically affiliated and to the cockeyed advice he gets from his Fair Deal economic counselors. This is particularly bad when everyone, except his economic counselors, recognizes that the basic essential to our military strength is financial soundness.

The other direction in which politics seems to prevail is in the presidential handling of the vital problem of inflation. Months ago Mr. Faruch pointed out that inflation is the most dangerous enemy we have, that it can be controlled only through price control and price control is impossible unless ceilings are placed, among other things, on wages. Everybody except Mr. Truman's economic counselors and the union labor bosses with whom he is allied agreed about that. Yet, from doing anything about controlling wages Mr. Truman shrinks just as his predecessor shrank. Mr. Faruch asserted—and no one has denied—that failure to control wages along with profits added a hundred billion dollars to the cost of the last war.

Mr. Roosevelt tried to hold down wages by entering into a voluntary "no strike" agreement with the labor bosses. This agreement was during the course of the war. Already strikes are threatened in the automobile industry and another general wage raise demand is in the works. Nothing could promote a ruinous inflation more surely. Mr. Truman must know this, but apparently has no intention of standing in the way. This is politics of the kind every citizen has a right to resent—and is a fool not to.

U. S. Today Faces Enemy at Home

U. S. Government investigators, and sworn testimony.

These documents and testimony prove conclusively that the Soviet Union for many years has been engaged in an intensive, well-organized conspiracy against the United States and other non-Communist countries.

The danger from the enemy at home is real and it is immediate. In the event of war with Russia it will become even greater. For the enemy is ready to strike, wreaking what damage it can.

Its trained saboteurs undoubtedly will attempt to blow up key defense plants, transportation and communications facilities. They will incite to riot and create as much strife as possible on the home front.

Even now, in the absence of total war, the Communists have succeeded in penetrating virtually every phase of American life.

Their influence is exerted in schools, colleges, churches and other public agencies.

They control certain American labor unions and have secret cells at work in many others.

Their agents have been planted in the Federal Government itself, often at top levels.

Their operatives are at work in all the basic industries, including key defense plants.

Evidence to date indicates that they have stolen, and are stealing, atomic energy secrets and classified data on electronics, jets and other top secret defense weapons.

Through literally hundreds of Communist front organizations they are operating in this country the greatest propaganda machine the world has ever known.

Of the strength and character of this trained underground apparatus, Dr. J. B. Matthews, former Director of Research for the House Un-American Activities Committee, warns:

"The sobering truth is that we have the equivalent, numerically speaking, of twenty divisions of Communist guerrillas behind our fighting lines.

"Not only that, but they are so strategically placed in our key industries that they may be able to do vastly more harm than an equal number of armed and uniformed troops of the enemy. They belong to a deadly 'conspiratorial apparatus' of the enemy."

Such an organization was not achieved overnight, Dr. Matthews points out, but is the result of many years of conspiratorial work. Nor was it aimed at the present emergency alone, he adds, for the Communists anticipated such an emergency. They knew that it was inevitable; indeed, they worked night and day to bring it about. In short, they planned it that way.

There is no solace, investigators emphasize, in the comparatively small number of Communists in the United States. Their sphere of influence extends far beyond their numerical strength.

Latest official estimates place the current membership of the Communist Party in the U. S. at between 54,000 and 58,000. Of this total, says Matthews, only about 7,000 will admit membership. The remainder are the secret members—part of the underground apparatus.

They are being aided by approximately 500,000 Americans who are fellow travelers or who sympathize with the Communists in varying degrees.

Anticipating and preparing for the illegality of their operations—the most dangerous part of their work—the Communists long ago purchased and stored secret printing presses.

According to Dr. Matthews, they also prepared:

Lists of secret editors ready to replace those who may be arrested.

Secret committees trained for the surreptitious distribution of illegal papers and pamphlets.

Secret buildings designated for illegal correspondence and conspiratorial meeting places.

Trained substitute party leaders ready to succeed those taken into custody.

Codes for use in written and personal contacts between conspirators.

Riot leaders trained for defiance of police and for incitement to mass violence.

Sabotage squads, designated by the Communists as "factory nuclei," at work in all large industrial plants of the country.

These are but a few of the preparations made by the Communists in their conspiracy to wreck the United States.

Based on official documents and sworn testimony, further details of the conspiracy, and how it works, will be described in subsequent articles in this series.

Child's Clothes Influence His Personality Development

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

WHAT the "other girls wear" is important to the elementary school girl, especially those between ten and twelve years of age. To Joan's mother it may seem relatively unimportant that she have clothes similar to those worn by her classmates. But to Joan it may mean social acceptability and a happy personality instead of acute self-consciousness and many moments of unhappiness. This is especially true for sensitive, timid children. (My bulletin, "The Lonely, Timid Youth," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.) Yet such conformity does not necessarily mean higher cost, whether the garment is ready-made or homemade.

Standards for Selection

In choosing clothing for your child, be practical. Look for artistry, simplicity, appropriateness. Choose suitably becoming garments made from sturdy fabrics that will meet the everyday needs of the grade school girl. Delicate pastel wools, tight-fitting, puff-sleeved, ruffle-trimmed dresses are appropriate, especially when mother does the laundry and the family income is limited.

Thompson and Rea, in "Clothing for Children," present some guides for sensible mothers: Will the garment open flat for ironing? Can it easily be let out as the girl grows taller or stouter? Is the garment suited to the build of the girl? How few are the trimmings? Have they careful finish, appropriate length of stitch and good quality of sewing thread?

These experts tell us that good fabrics do not need ironing, are spot-resistant or can be wiped off with a damp cloth, are crease-resistant, will not shrink or fade, will launder easily and won't need starching, don't require dry cleaning, and are lightweight, flexible and artistic. "School clothes should be of sturdy materials which will stand hard wear, a trip on the bus, and playing on the school ground, and yet not look too soiled or mused by the end of the day."

Shopping Education

Fortunate the grade school girl who gradually shares in choosing her garments and is finally able to shop for some of them alone. Before you go shopping with your daughter from six to twelve years of age, talk over with her some of the foregoing standards. As early in her shopping experiences as possible let her see a number of different garments within the range of standards and prices you would approve, so that she has an opportunity to choose. Even before entering high school she should be well educated in doing most of the shopping for her own clothing. Your success at winning her cooperation and leading her to make wise choices will depend largely on her earlier family experiences in talking over the family income and expenditures, and in the wise use of an allowance. (My bulletin, "Allowances," may be had in a stamped envelope sent me in care of this paper.)

RECIPES

Rice Meat Stuffing In Green Peppers Makes Economical, Tasty Dish

With the green pepper season reaching a peak we offer a tempting method of serving them—stuffed with rice! These simple stuffed peppers require only ten minutes of baking time for most of the cooking is done on top of the stove. The sauce is of the "canned variety"—requires no preparation—simply open the can, pour it into a shallow baking dish, add the stuffed, parboiled peppers and bake for ten minutes or until they are heated through. One 8 oz. can of sauce makes just enough for the two large (halved) or four small peppers.

Note: Keeping cooked rice in a covered container in the refrigerator during the hot summer months is a trick worth remembering. Ready at a moment's notice, it combines well in such dishes as stuffed peppers, rice puffs, rice fruit desserts, rice waffles—or tossed into a salad (made like potato salad—using rice instead of potatoes).

Ingredients
1 cup cooked rice
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup cooked meat, chopped, or 1 can chopped meat (baby or junior food)
Pepper, garlic, salt and monosodium glutamate, to taste
½ teaspoon curry powder
2 large green peppers or 4 small peppers
Bread crumbs for topping
Paprika
1 tablespoon bacon fat

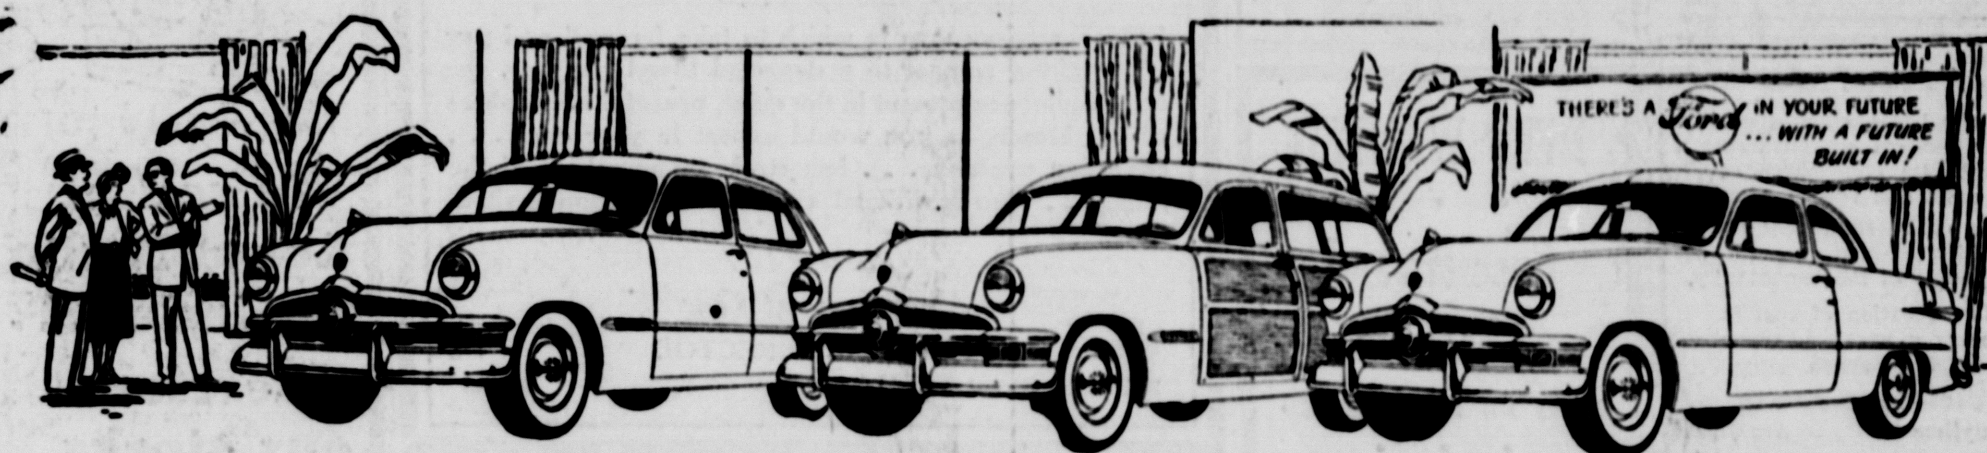

To Cook the Rice
Put 1 cup of white rice, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups cold water in a two-quart saucepan. Cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more. During this time the rice will absorb the water and come out deliciously tender. Remove the lid to permit the rice to steam dry. Lift rice with a fork to test its consistency. Never stir rice while cooking—and the grains will be separate and tender. Makes approximately 3 cups fluffy white rice. Keep leftover cooked rice in a covered bowl in refrigerator—you'll find it handy next time you're in a hurry to fix a quick meal.

Note: This produces very firm rice grains. If you prefer more tender grains, use ½ cup additional water for each cup of rice and increase your slow cooking period 4 or 5 minutes.

Method
Wash the peppers, split the large ones in half, remove the tops from small ones, remove center, core and seeds. Cook in boiling water for about 15 minutes or until tender. Heat the oven to 350 degrees F. Mix 1 cup of cooked rice with the meat and seasonings in a bowl. When the peppers are cooked, stuff them with the rice mixture, top with bread crumbs or cracker meal and sprinkle with a dash of paprika.

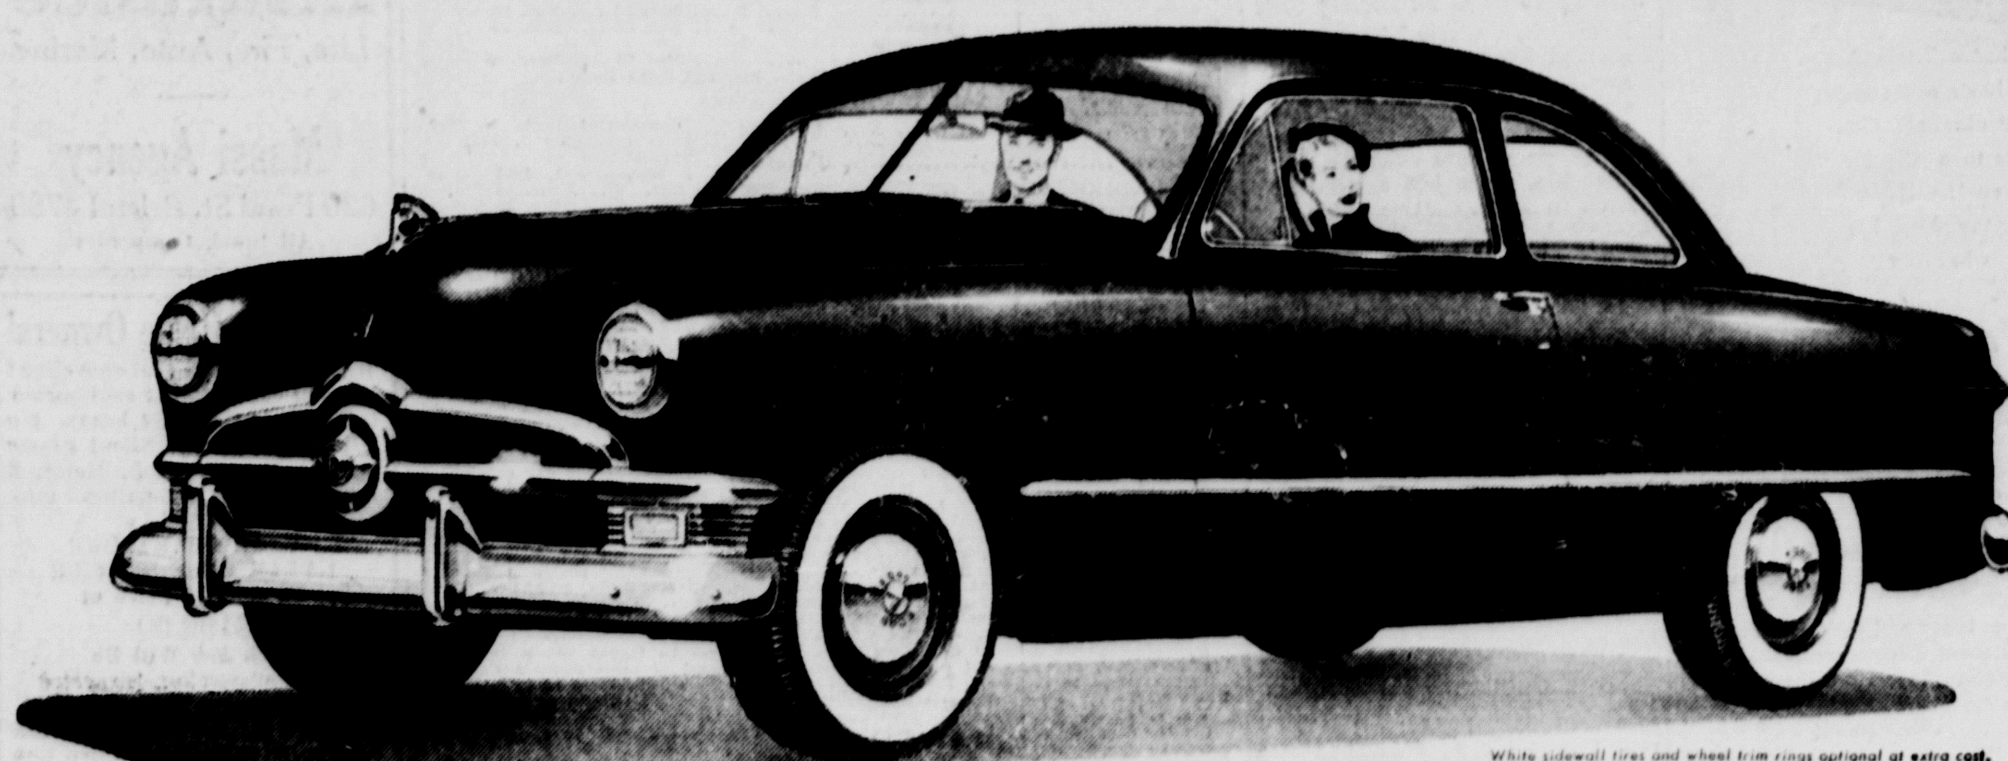

In a shallow baking dish put the contents of an eight ounce can of tomato sauce. Place the stuffed peppers in the sauce and bake for 10 minutes at 350 degrees F. (or until hot through). Serve at once in the dish in which they are baked. This will make four servings.

Meet America's Savingest "SIX"

NEVER BEFORE did any "Six" combine such a low purchase price . . . such economy of operation . . . and so much "go." And you'll find Ford's new "Six" is so smooth you can hardly hear it . . . for its new design has "hushed" its voice down to a whisper.

White sidewall tires and wheel trim rings optional at extra cost.

TRY THE "MID SHIP" RIDE

You can pay hundreds more and still not equal the comfort of Ford's road-hugging "Mid Ship" Ride . . . or the quiet of Ford's sound-conditioned "Life-guard" Body. With Ford's 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes, it keeps you safe and snug.

IT'S A COMPANION IN QUALITY TO FORD'S SILENT NEW V-8

Yes, "Six" or V-8, you're sure of smooth silent quality at rock bottom price. Ford's V-8, you know, is the type of engine powering America's finest cars—yet it sells for hundreds lower than most sixes. And Ford's "Six" costs even less.

established, permission may be procured to carry guns to and from the meetings, and to the firing grounds.

The firing range, it has been stated, will be available in the near future for trap shooting and rifle and small arms practice. Included in the course of instruction will be methods of home and community defense. This course will be under the direction of the U. S. Air Force instructors.

Plans were made and pilots were selected for the practice mission next Thursday evening, when detecting and identifying of suspicious indications from the air will be followed by point-marking "four" sorties. The location of these missions has not been announced.

With the induction of four persons, Thursday evening, membership of Warrington Lions Club was brought up to 75. The club has the largest membership it has enjoyed in its history. The induction ceremony was conducted by President G. Douglas Clark.

New members are: Kenneth Hine, sponsored by Ellis Lewis; Elmer Brano and Everett Brown, sponsored by C. Erwin Mayer, and Dr. Lewis Barnes, sponsored by his father, Joseph Barnes.

Visitors were: Stephen Haackler, Pittsburgh, a guest of his father, Dr. William F. Haackler; Roy Lewis, a guest of Thomas B. Igoe; Mr. Barattucci, a guest of Paul Bodine, and Dr. Alexander Mitchell, a guest of Dr. Lewis Barnes.

Commander Norval R. Richardson, Gardenville, a member of the Plumstead club and a Boy Scout director, commented briefly on Boy Scout activities.

Highlighting the meeting was the showing of color motion pictures by Dr. Haackler, who took the members on an imaginary tour of the State. Pictures of the larger towns and cities, productive farming areas, industries and recreational facilities claimed the attention of the group.

The building committee held a brief session, during which it was decided to stake out the tract on which a building for the Boy Scouts will be erected. The formal ground breaking ceremony took place yesterday, following which construction will begin immediately.

Elsie Ramsey, Eddington, Takes Marriage Vows in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28 — At the hour of two on Saturday in St. Boniface R. C. Church, Mrs. Elsie Marion Ramsey, Eddington, took the vows which united her in matrimony to Mr. Alfred Sebastian Schmitt, of Philadelphia. The Rev. Fr. Mey officiated.

The choice of the bride was a costume of white lace over satin. The model featured a sweetheart neckline, long tapered sleeves, fitted bodice and long, full skirt. A pearl and sequin studded tiara, with face veil, and white satin slippers were worn. A gold sweetheart locket adorned her neck, and an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses was carried.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Frank Breitweiser, Philadelphia. She was attired in a gown of pastel green nylon net over taffeta, fashioned with a peasant neckline, detachable sleeves, fitted bodice and long bouffant skirt. A green halo with sequins, and matching slippers were worn. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mr. Frank Breitweiser served as best man. Organ melodies were rendered by Mrs. Catherine Ayers, Philadelphia. For her wedding trip to Boston, Mass., the bride selected a dress of pink floral print on black crepe, black horsehair hat, matching criss-cross strap slippers, pink gloves and a pink topper.

Mrs. Schmitt recently resigned from her position as dietitian at St. Francis' Vocational School, Eddington. Mr. Schmitt is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad as a conductor-brakeman.

With 75 attending, a reception took place at 2144 N. 2nd street, Philadelphia, where the newlyweds will reside.

CROYDON WINS YOUTH WEEK BASEBALL CROWN

Croydon A. C. captured the 1950 championship of the Bristol Youth Baseball League yesterday by winning over Harriman A. C., 10-7, in a slug-fest on Memorial Park diamond. It is the second time that Croydon won both the regular season and playoff crown, winning in 1948. Last season, it was runner-up in the playoffs.

Harry McGuckin's boys had to fight uphill to win the conflagration as the Harriman boys packed up a 3-0 and then a 5-2 lead. But the determined Croydon nine came back fighting in the fourth inning and rolled up seven runs to clinch the tilt.

The Croydon youths hit the ball hard from the start, but did not do any real clutch hitting until the third and fourth frames. They made a pair of hits in the first and another pair in the second but these were wasted.

However, a single by Morrell, a double by Joe Dominick, and hit by Johnny Paone produced two runs in the third. In the following canto, seven tallies were manufactured. In this inning, Karl Barner had a single after Bill Struble and Harry Robinson had walked. Lou Loeffler had a single and "Bill" Moll a two-bagger. After Paone walked, Struble doubled, and Barner made his second hit of the inning. On the latter's blow, Struble died at the plate, attempting to score.

Nine hits were made by the losing team against the hurling of Jim Morrell. Jim was shaky but managed to eke through with the triumph. In the fifth, Harriman made four hits and scored twice. Two runners were still on base when Binkley grounded out to end the canto.

Rigby started on the mound for Harriman but was chased during the uprising in the fourth. "Pete" Rubino finished.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO COMPLETE SCHEDULE

The Bristol Suburban Softball League will finish its schedule. This was decided by the managers to enable players to get in enough games to participate in the playoffs which begin next week.

Three games will be played this week with Franklin playing Second Ward this evening on Memorial field. Wednesday evening, Fire Company No. 1 will meet Fifth Ward and on Thursday evening, Auto Boys plays Luciano.

Next Tuesday evening, Sept. 5, the annual game between the seasonal winners and an All-Star team will be played. Second Ward, the season champions club, will clash with a team managed by "Rabbit" Palumbo. Palumbo is being aided in the selecting of his team by the other managers.

The game of the "sudden death" playoff between Franklin and Fire Company No. 1 has been scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 6th, and the Jefferson-Luciano game has been scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 7th. Friday, September 8th, is the rain date for these two games.

ST. ANN'S TO BATTLE TO RETAIN LEAD

Its lead cut to one game, St. Ann's A. A. must win this evening when it meets the Atwood team in a Trenton Industrial League contest on Memorial Park field. Game will begin at six o'clock.

If St. Ann's is victorious this evening, it will assure itself of a deadlock for first place in the regular season play. The "Saint" have one more game after tonight, meeting the second-place Trenton Pirates on Wetzel field tomorrow evening. The Pirates also meet the Michalski team on Wednesday evening.

Manager "Spike" Scordia intends to send his mound ace, Dave Muth against the Atwood team, saving either Paul Leighton or "Lou" Mari for the Pirates tomorrow. Joe Elmer will be behind the plate.

In their last meeting here last Monday evening, Atwoods and St. Ann's battled to a 4-4 deadlock.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

THE hand that rocks the cradle has to do the cooking too. No wonder they say a woman is the pivot of the home. In this modern day and age there seems to be even more work to be done around the house than before. Planning the menu, shopping for and preparing the family's meals are no small part of the housewife's busy day.

A little help for the homemaker might be welcome. So this week A & P's Service for Homemakers suggests a wholesome and thrifty dish for Sunday dinner—Brown Beef Steak.

To prepare this appetizing meal, take two pounds of beef, chuck, neck or shin, and wipe with a damp cloth. Cut into one-inch cubes, rub with a third of a cup of seasoned flour. Melt two tablespoons fat in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven; brown the meat on all sides. Add three cups of boiling water, two tablespoons chopped parsley, one celery top, third of a cup of sliced onion, one bay leaf and three cloves. Cover and simmer gently over low heat about two and a half hours or until meat is almost tender. Then add six small onions, six carrots and one cup diced celery. Continue cooking about half an hour or until meat and vegetables are tender. Add more water as necessary. Remove meat and vegetables to a hot platter. There is ample here for six servings and no more than a tossed green salad need be added. After this nutritious main dish, why not serve a piece of fresh peach pie with vanilla ice cream, together with the family's favorite beverage.
